FROM CANAL COMPANY

Refuses to Give Answers—Declines to Give Replies to Various Questions Before the Senate Committee.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 28.—The examination of William Nelson Cromwell was resumed yesterday by the Senate committee on intercoastal canals. Senator Morgan took charge of the examination and asked Mr. Cromwell what payments had been made to him from the new Panama Canal company.

Mr. Cromwell asserted that the information demanded was of a confidential character and involved the relations of counsel and client. Senator Morgan insisted, and many sharp passages ensued. Finally Mr. Cromwell said that while he did not think it any business of the senators making the inquiry, he would state that the total payments made to him would not exceed $200,000. That was all he had received out of the $400,000,000 paid by this government, but he added that he had not rendered his account for services.

Mr. Cromwell said he did not think the country could be interested in his private relations as counsel to the new Panama Canal company.

"I think it is," said Mr. Morgan. "You may monopolize the opinion of the country, but I don't think you do."

replied Mr. Cromwell, and then, upon having repeated the question concerning funds he had received from the French canal company, he declined emphatically on the ground that he would not divulge professional secrets.

"It is beyond the purview of the committee to make this inquiry, and I decline to answer," he said.

Mr. Morgan said he reserved the right to determine the materiality of the question and proceeded with the examination.

Mr. Morgan called upon the witness to state what had been the gross sums received from the old or new Panama canal company, since the payment to J. P. Morgan & Co., New York bankers, of the money involved in the transfer of the property to the United States, from states, from syndicates, from the United States, the republic of Panama or from any source whatsoever.

"I thank you for that question," said Mr. Cromwell. "It involves a period since the transfer of the property to the United States."

"I would be obliged to you if you would refrain from complimenting me in public," said Mr. Morgan. "I am sure that I think better of you than you do of me," said Mr. Cromwell, and this provoked another outburst from the Alabama senator against the witness indulging in compliments.

Mr. Cromwell then said he had not received one dollar of the $400,000,000 paid to the new Panama canal company, but would render his final bill in due course and that: "It will be substantial and will be paid." He said he had not received from the republic of Panama a single cent and had received no benefit directly or indirectly from the sale of the property. His sole compensation had been as counsel. He stated that the answer was meant to include the relations of Roger L. Farnum, a clerk in his office.

Mr. Morgan then asked the witness why he objected to making a similar statement of his relations to the canal company prior to the transfer of the property. The witness said he did not think it pertinent.

Questioned concerning the manner in which the $200,000 had been paid, Mr. Cromwell said the payments were a "small matter of $10,000 or $15,000 a year." Asked what services he had rendered to earn the $200,000, Mr. Cromwell said that professional secrets were involved in the inquiry, and he should be compelled to decline to reply.

"Read that question," said Mr. Morgan to the stenographer.

"I will get an answer if I can."

"I am unable to specify the services," said Mr. Cromwell. "As I said, it approximated $10,000 or $15,000 a year. I called upon the company for money as I needed it. My clients are satisfied."

Dyspepsia of Women

Caused by Female Disorders and Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A great many women suffer with a form of indigestion or dyspepsia which does not seem to yield to ordinary treatment. While the symptoms seem to be similar to those of ordinary indigestion, yet the medicine universally prescribed do not seem to restore the patient's normal condition.

Mrs. M. Wright

Mrs. Pinkham claims that there is a kind of dyspepsia that is caused by a derangement of the female organism, and which, while it causes a disturbance similar to ordinary indigestion, cannot be relieved without a medicine which not only acts as a stomach tonic, but has a peculiar tonic effect on the female organism.

As proof of this theory we call attention to the case of Mrs. Maggie Wright, Brooklyn, N. Y., who was completely cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after everything else had failed. She writes:

"For two years I suffered with dyspepsia which degenerated the entire system that I was unable to attend to my daily duties. I felt weak and nervous and nothing that I ate tasted good and it caused a disturbance in my stomach. I tried different dyspepsia cures, but nothing seemed to help me. I was advised to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and was happily surprised to find that it acted like a charm, and in a few days I began to enjoy and properly digest my food. My recovery was rapid, and in five weeks I was a well woman. I have recommended it to many suffering women."

No other medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement or has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
